1. On 10/10/19, the U.S. Department of Justice announced that it had filed a civil complaint against the U.S. Department of Education, alleging that the Department had violated the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) by withholding information from the public. The complaint was filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. The Department of Education had previously refused to release certain documents requested by the public, claiming that the information was exempt from disclosure under FOIA. The Department of Justice argued that the Department of Education's actions were unlawful and that the information should be released to the public.
